

Bounty for Killing Hawks.

The following is a copy of the law passed at the late session of the Legislature, granting a bounty of fifty cents for each hawk killed:

Sec. 4306a. Any one killing a bird known as the hawk, shall, on the presentation of such dead bird to the clerk of the township where he or they may reside, be entitled to a certificate to the amount of fifty cents for each hawk so produced.

Sec. 4306b. Any person or persons claiming such reward shall produce to the clerk of the township the number of heads for which he or they may claim reward, and it shall be the duty of the clerk to destroy the same immediately and issue his certificate to the county commissioners, who, on presentation of such certificate by the person or his order upon the treasurer of the county for the amount of the reward, to be paid out of the surplus dog tax fund, and shall be preserved by the treasurer as other orders are directed to be preserved, and it shall be the duty of the auditor to keep an account of all such orders as accounts of other orders are or may be kept.

Norwalk has perhaps the most eccentric character in the State. His name is George Moulton and his oddity consists in his taste for many slippers, gaiters and shoes, of which he has the largest collection in the world. He occasionally buys a gay pair of boots or bright colored gloves. His assortment has cost him hundreds of dollars, and is so large that he has shoes of different color for every day in the year. His father was a successful merchant, and George inherited from him a fortune of many thousand dollars, so ample that it brings him an income of $60 a month. For many years Moulton and his slipper museum have been quartered at the St. Charles Hotel in Norwalk. He dresses very plainly and economically, wearing a sack-coat of rather cheap material and pantaloons cut short so as to show off his shoes to better advantage. About once a week he takes a trip to Cleveland to see if anything new in the line of shoes can be found. Sometimes he wears a pair of gilt gaiters; again he will don a pink and a sky blue shoe, and thus he changes his foot wear to suit his singular fancy. He never appears at church save when he has purchased a new pair of gaiters, and never rides when he can walk.—Cleveland Penny Press.

Things Learned by Experience.

If your fire is low throw on a tablespoonful of salt, and it will help it very much.

A little ginger put into sausage meat improves the flavor.

In icing cake dip the knife frequently in cold water.

In boiling meats for soups use cold water to extract the juice. If the meat is wanted for itself alone, plunge in boiling water at once.

You can get a bottle or barrel of oil off any carpet or woolen stuff by applying dry buckwheat plentifully and faithfully: never put water to such a grease spot or liquid of any kind.

Broil steak without salting; salt draws the juice in cooking; it is desirable to preserve it if possible; cook over a hot fire, turning frequently, searing on both sides; place on a platter, salt and pepper to the taste.

Beef having a tendency to be tough can be made very palatable by stewing very gently for two hours; pepper and salt, taking out about a pint of liquid when done, and letting the rest boil into the meat. Brown the meat in the pot. After taking up make a gravy of a pint of liquid saved.

A small piece of charcoal in the pot with a piece of cabbage removes the smell.

Clean oil cloths with milk and water; a brush and soap will ruin them.

Tumblers that have had milk in them should never be put in hot water.

A spoonful of stewed tomatoes in the gravy of either roasted or fried meats is an improvement.

A Detroit, Mich., doctor, who has vaccinated over 500 persons, reports many odd experiences with subjects under the lancet. Not more than two men out of ten have it done in a straightforward way. They hesitate, make inquiries and postpone it for a few days. One insisted upon being strapped fast to his chair while the operation was performed. Another wanted to take chloroform. A negro was one day seen to walk past the office several times, and the doctor finally stepped to the door and asked him if he wanted to be vaccinated.

"Deed, sah, dat's what I cum for," he replied, "but de werry minit I turned dat corner de blamed thing quit aching!" As a rule the men, when lanced, cry "Woosh!" or "Thunder!" The women cry "Ouch!" generally, but now and then one screams "Oh, Lordy!" Children have to be flattered, coaxed or scared into submission.

No Humbugging the American People
You can't humbug the American people, when they find a remedy that suits them; they use it and recommend it to their friends. Just exactly the case with Spring Blossom which has become a household word all over the United States. Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents.

A would-be mother-in-law meets a friend, lately in the same predicament, who cries out: "Oh, my dear, I have such a piece of news for you. My daughter was married yesterday! 'How nice! But how did you manage it? Was your son-in-law indifferent to your lack of money, or did you make him believe you were rich?' "Oh, no (with a gleeful chuckle): I got our family doctor to tell him I couldn't live six months."

We ask, Are you ready to buy an Organ? If so, then it is to your interest to examine our goods before you purchase elsewhere. I sell at New York wholesale prices. The Standard Organ is to-day

The Leading Organ in the World

Because it is so claimed by the best musical judges in America. I call your attention to the beautiful designs of cases, which are pronounced unsurpassed by any in the market. I especially call your attention to the tone of the Standard Organ. It is full round and resembles the pipe organ tone. The stop action is the finest, and impossible to get out of order. Interior works are the finest and most durable. All of the very latest improvements.

No. 17 has a new stop called Campanella, two and one-half octaves of bells in perfect harmony with the reeds. This instrument is destined to be the leading organ of the country.

Buy the Standard Organ, because it is the best. Buy it, because it is used in our schools, Colleges, Seminars and Musical Academies. Buy it, because thousands of families are using them in this and foreign countries. Buy it, because it is an Organ worth one hundred cents on the dollar for every dollar you pay for it.
